Books

- The Titanic's Mummy - Signed First Edition - £8

Insurance investigator Richard Mallory is sent to recover a stolen Egyptian scarab, taken from a robbery at Rainsbury Hall. The main suspect is maverick Professor Charles Montacute and his daughter Jazmine.

The chase ensues, and Mallory finds himself aboard the RMS Titanic, battling an ancient Mummy brought back to life for the sole purpose of wreaking revenge on those who have dared to plunder Egyptian heritage.

If things were not bad enough, events are about to take a dramatic turn, for the Titanic is heading for disaster – below decks a fire rages out of control in the coal bunkers, endangering the very ship itself.

At least there is no way that things could possibly get any worse.....

- The Beasts of Karlstad - Signed First Edition - £8

Professor Charles Montacute, his daughter Jazmine and Captain Richard Mallory, with the help of Yuri Romanovsky, travel to Karlstad in Austria-Hungary in search of their missing friend and to investigate the rumours of strange Yeti-type creatures that are said to live there.

However, when they arrive, it is soon clear that there is much more to this provincial town than meets the eye.

From the strange way the local's dress, to the advanced devices and technology they use, it is clear that Karlstad is a town that is secretly run on cogs, gears and steam.

- Sensational Tales: The Old School Bell - Signed Copy - £4.00

(A book inspired by the old Huish Primary School building)

It was said that any pupil of Abbot's Lane Primary School who climbed onto the roof of the building and knocked the school bell three times would be blessed with good fortune throughout their lives.

Conner Seagrave Sophie Hadley and Elliot Gibbs failed to do this, but now years later, just before the building is to be demolished, they are returning to complete the task.

However, their challenge takes on a sinister turn that puts their lives and the lives of those who live near the school in serious danger.
